

Zak Zoo lives at Number One, Africa Avenue.

His mum and dad are away on safari, so his animal family is looking after him. Sometimes things get a little . . .

... WILD!

Zak Zoo was expecting a parcel today. But the postman drove past the house without stopping.

Zak called the post office. "Don't you have a parcel for me?" he asked. "I do," said Percy. "But I can't be your postman any more."
"Why not?" asked Zak.

"It's too dangerous," said Percy.
"Last week your lions attacked me!"
"But they are just cubs," said Zak.
"They were only playing."

